

CHANGE MADE IN PLYMOUTH POSTOFFICE

LOBBY SPACE IS REDUCED AND BOXES ARE MOVED FARTHER TOWARD THE FRONT.

WILL SAVE LABOR

Delivery and Money Order Windows
Are Placed Together So One Man Can Attend to Both
When Necessary.

Postmaster Steiner has made some radical changes in the arrangement of the boxes and windows of the postoffice. The box fixtures were moved farther toward the front, the general delivery window and Money Order window placed side by side, and the entry door from the lobby put over on the north side of the room. The change was made on Sunday which was necessary because the daily business would not allow it on any other day.

The casing boxes for the city carriers were moved back along the north wall and the other racks, cases, etc. were moved toward the front. The change will give much more room for the clerks and still leave plenty for the public in the lobby.

One chief advantage is that the change places the Money Order and delivery windows close together, so that one man can tend both when necessary. The men are working under the eight hour system and it was left in charge of both these windows. Some of the fixtures heretofore used are not now needed.

Honor in Soprano Solo at Winona Lake Contest

Miss Blanche McCoy of Plymouth took the second prize in the singing contest at Winona Lake Thursday afternoon, in competition with some of the best singers in this and other states. Miss Gertrude Sternberg of Winona lake received the first prize. There were 2000 people in the audience.

Miss McCoy is now at the lake and her many friends will be glad to know of her success in this important contest.

Studying Expression.

One of our great lecturers explains the difference between oratory and elocution as follows: "If you call a dog and he comes, that's oratory. If he goes the other way, that's elocution."

A number of Plymouth young ladies are studying the art of expression. They leave it for us to decide whether it is oratory or elocution, when we hear them recite.

Miss Himes, of Elkhardt, who is spending the summer at Lake Maxinkuckee, comes up to Plymouth twice a week and gives lessons. The following young ladies are among her students, Maude Marks, Leta McCormick, Rose Matthews, Violet Singrey, Merle Bosworth, Bert Tomlinson, Josephine Johnson, and Elsie Harris.

Entertained the Eleventh.

Mesdames Fred Hill and George Neff, with their guests, the Mesdames Harry Bennett, of Chicago, and Firestone and Milner, spent a delightful social afternoon and evening on the lawns of the former on Friday. These ladies are members of the one-time famous "Eleven" club of Plymouth, most of whose members have now moved from our city. A delicious garden supper added to the enjoyment of the occasion.

To Move to Farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Steiner are planning to move out to Monroe Steiners farm near Lakeville. He will do some farming in the summer time but as no idea of giving up the carrying of sales, at which he has proved such a success.

HELP IN EXPRESS INQUIRY

Indianapolis Trade Association Enlisted by Commerce Body.

Indianapolis, July 31.—The Indianapolis Trade Association has been asked to take a hand in the investigation of express rates by the Interstate commerce commission.

The request has come to Secretary Leroy E. Snyder from the express rate conference of the associated commercial organizations of the United States, with which the trade association is identified. It is urged that Indianapolis business houses assist the commission in obtaining information by furnishing analysis of the cost of delivery service. The commission expects to obtain detailed information about the cost of delivery service in all parts of the country.

SHUT DOWN ON GAMBLING

A Little Pooling Is Done at Marion Races Sub Rosa.

Marion, Ind., July 31.—Prosecuting Attorney George M. Coon and Sheriff Tony George, on complaint that gambling and bookmaking was in progress at the Grant county fair, attempted to enforce Governor Marshall's order that there be no gambling at race tracks in Indiana.

The sheriff was informed that three Indianapolis professionals were quietly operating a handbook betting scheme in the grand stand. Close watch was kept, but the parties could not be detected. While the officers were trying to trap the chief offenders some pooling was done at other places about the race track. No arrests were made.

PUTS BAN ON CARD TABLES

Prosecutor at Newcastle Orders
"Clean-Up" at Poolrooms.

Newcastle, Ind., July 31.—Following the crusade against gambling, started a week ago, the card tables in the poolrooms and cigar stores were removed on the order of Prosecutor Evans, and the question of forbidding minors to enter poolrooms is being considered.

Mayor Barnard went into a cigar store and poolroom a few days ago and says two minors were playing pool. He immediately ordered the proprietor to stop the game and to permit no more minors to play.

SNAKE CAUSES BOY'S DEATH

Makes Him Drop Gun, Which Explodes and Kills Him.

Lawrenceburg, Ind., July 31.—George W. Geiger, aged sixteen, met death by the accidental discharge of his shotgun while hunting squirrels. Young Geiger was standing on a log watching for a squirrel. A large black snake crawled out of a hole in the log, and passed over his feet, and in his excitement he dropped his gun, and the hammer struck the log and exploded the shells, sending both loads of shot through the boy's abdomen.

BIG CATTLE FEEDER.

Orville Webb, Prominent Polk Township Farmer, is Large Buyer and Shipper of Stock.

Orville Webb of Polk township has recently bought in Chicago 101 head of two year old steers as feeders. He brought them with some others to his farm in Polk Township and put them on feed at once. He will feed them for about 120 days, when they will be ready for market. Mr. Webb says "feeders" are lower than they have been for some time and there is a good chance of making something on them.

Mr. Webb is one of the big farmers and feeders of the county and usually knows when to buy cattle and feed them for market.

TENSION IS RELIEVED

Moroccan Difficulty May Be Settled without War.

All Parties in England Are United as Far as Course of Empire Is Concerned.

London, July 29.—From all surface indications here, the Moroccan situation is greatly relieved and there is every hope that the question will be settled without a resort to arms. This is not to be construed as indicating that there is not yet a feeling of anxiety in official circles, but there is a distinct falling off in the tone of hostility in the German press and the Paris newspapers seem much more hopeful in their utterances.

So far as can be judged from the outside the speech of Mr. Asquith and the remarks of Mr. Balfour have had not only a soothing effect, but they seem also to have impressed the powers with the fact that all parties in Great Britain, including the laborites, are united so far as the course of the empire is concerned in the event of trouble.

For once the Germans have realized apparently that the effort to split France and England has failed, and that for the future, so far as the Moroccan situation is concerned, continental Europe must look upon them as staunch friends and allies.

SUES BERGER FOR LIBEL

Woman Bound to Make More Trouble for Milwaukee Socialists.

Milwaukee, Wis., July 29.—Catherine Heide, the "jinx" of the Socialist administration, appeared again to harass the Socialists, by starting a $20,000 libel suit against Congressman Victor L. Berger and other officials of the Socialist Democratic Herald Publishing company, because of reference made to her when she caused the dismissal from the city service of Dr. W. C. Rucker, the marine hospital surgeon loaned to the Socialists by President Taft.

The girl made serious charges against Dr. Rucker and after involved proceedings Dr. Rucker left the city, retiring from the office of health commissioner. The case was used as a weapon against the Socialists, and it was to references made by the Socialist editors that the woman takes exception.

FIFTY HURT IN WRECK

Two Hundred Escape Injury in Pennsylvania Crash.

New York, July 29.—Fifty passengers were injured and 200 others had a narrow escape when an excursion train from western points to Atlantic City on the Lehigh Valley railroad was wrecked at Burdette, on Seneca lake, in the central part of the state. The crash came at 2:40 a. m., when nearly all of the travelers were asleep. Three sleeping cars left the track and rolled down a ten-foot embankment. Nearly all of the injured were in these coaches.

BODY FOUND IN RAVINE

Woman Had Been Shot but There is No Clue to Murderer.

Wheeling, W. Va., July 29.—Lying in a deep ravine between the hills four miles south of Wheeling the body of Mrs. Caroline Lippman of Bellairs, O., was found by a farmer. She had been shot dead, probably from ambush, for there was no sign of a struggle. Two bullet holes were in her body, one through the neck and the other in the heart.

Police of this city and neighboring communities are baffled by the motive and the identity of the mysterious assassin. Nothing in the nature of a clue has been afforded by the findings of the body. The sexton of a nearby cemetery states that shortly before the finding of the body he heard two shots fired. Police are searching for Louis Klein, a stone mason, who has been boarding with the woman.

BELLBOY SLAYER SENT TO TOMBS

Strangler of William Henry Jackson Is Indicted.

DETECTION QUICK AFTER CRIME

Label on Chloroform Vial Gives Clue to Seventeen-Year-Old Lad Who Wanted Money for Gaudy Clothes—Has Confessed.

New York, July 29.—The grand jury returned an indictment for murder in the first degree against the seventeen-year-old bellboy who wanted to get money to buy gaudy clothes and so strangled a helpless old man who had been liberal to him. The lad was sent to the Tombs to await trial some time in August.

In less than forty hours after Paul Geidel slipped out of William Henry Jackson's room on the tenth floor of the Hotel Iroquois, leaving behind him nothing but an empty chloroform vial with a half obliterated label, detectives found him, got a detailed confession from him and turned him over to the district attorney, their case completed.

For rapidity and results the job was unmatched in the records of the central office. While the bellboy was admitting in his room at 247 West Fifth street the new suit and patent leather shoes that he had bought with the proceeds of his crime, and while he was devouring the newspaper stories of the murder, the detectives were already closing in on him. When they nabbed him and produced the tell-tale chloroform label that had been identified as Newark drugist, he confessed whinily. Later a measure of bravado returned. Geidel regretted that he had not been a better job. Next time, said he, there would not have been clues left for the police to find.

His friend and roommate, Patrick J. McGrane, also a bellboy, who was arrested with him, was not indicted by the grand jury. McGrane, on his own statement that he had obliged Geidel by pawning Mr. Jackson's watch in Park Row, and that he had heard Geidel's half fearful, half boastful remark, "I guess I have killed a man," was held as an accessory after the fact, and locked up in the Tombs.
